Luxembourg, 12 November 2020 – RTL Group today published the following quarterly statement for the first nine months of 2020 (January to September 2020).

Thomas Rabe, Chief Executive Officer of RTL Group, says:

“We monitor closely the development of the coronavirus pandemic and its economic impact across our footprint, and continue to focus on the safety of our employees, the continuity of our businesses, cost and liquidity management.

Following a strong decline in the second quarter of 2020, TV advertising revenue across RTL Group decreased by only 2.1 per cent in the third quarter compared to our previous guidance of around minus 10 per cent. At the same time, we continued to gain advertising market shares, grow our streaming services and manage our costs.

Assuming the economic recovery continues, we currently expect revenue of around €5.8 billion and an Adjusted EBITA of around €720 million for the full year 2020, driven by the strength of Mediengruppe RTL Deutschland. We also expect to propose a dividend for 2020, in line with our stated dividend policy.

At the end of October, RTL Group completed the sale of its entire shareholding in the Canadian digital video network BroadbandTV for €102 million. The sale is consistent with our three-priority strategy – core, growth, alliances & partnerships – which also includes continuously reviewing our portfolio and growing our European digital assets in the areas of streaming, advertising technology and digital video.”

Revenue

Reported Group revenue was down 11.8 per cent to €4,053 million (January to September 2019: €4,595 million), mainly due to TV advertising markets declining across Europe in the second quarter of 2020 as a result of the Covid-19 outbreak. Group revenue was down 10.4 per cent organically². Reported Group revenue in the third quarter of 2020 was down 1.5 per cent to €1,401 million (Q3/2019: €1,422 million).

The revenue of RTL Group's content business, Fremantle, was down 15.3 per cent to €1,038 million (January to September 2019: €1,225 million), mainly due to postponements of productions across numerous territories as a result of the Covid-19 outbreak.

RTL Group's advertising revenue was €2,115 million (January to September 2019: €2,489 million), of which €1,679 million represented TV advertising revenue (January to September 2019: €2,010 million), €210 million digital advertising revenue (January to September 2019: €226 million) and €141 million radio advertising revenue (January to September 2019: €177 million).

Streaming revenue³ from TV Now and Videoland was up 24.0 per cent to €124 million (January to September 2019: €100 million), thanks to the increased number of streaming subscriptions.

RTL Group's digital revenue was down by 1.6 per cent to €743 million (January to September 2019: €755 million), mainly due to timing of deliveries at Fremantle, the wind-down of StyleHaul and the scope exit of iGraal which was partly compensated for by higher streaming revenue.

Net debt

RTL Group has low levels of debt and significant unused and committed Bertelsmann credit facilities with no maturities before 2023. As of 30 September 2020, RTL Group had a net debt⁴ position of €179 million (31 December 2019: net debt of €384 million).

² The organic growth/decline is calculated by adjusting the reported revenue growth/decline for the impact of exchange rate effects, acquisitions and disposals, as well as other effects (mainly the wind-down of StyleHaul). When determining the exchange rate effects, the functional currency that is valid in the respective country is used. The other effects include changes in methods and reporting, if any

³ Streaming revenue includes SVOD, TVOD, in-stream revenue from TV Now and Videoland

⁴ The net debt excludes current and non-current lease liabilities. Including this, net debt amounts to €582 million (€816 million at 31 December 2019)

Following the German example, Groupe M6 and Prisma Media partnered in September 2020 to launch the podcast platform Audio Now in France. More than 100 French podcasts from the catalogues of Groupe M6, Prisma Media and partner publishers were available on the platform upon its launch in September 2020.

Outlook

Assuming that the economic recovery continues, RTL Group expects its total revenue for the full year 2020 to be around €5.8 billion and its Adjusted EBITA to be around €720 million, driven by the strength of Mediengruppe RTL Deutschland.

RTL Group's dividend policy, presented in August 2019, remains unchanged: RTL Group plans to pay out at least 80 per cent of the Group's full-year net result attributable to RTL Group shareholders, adjusted for any material non-cash impacts such as impairments and deferred taxes. For 2020, RTL Group's management currently expects to propose a dividend in line with this dividend policy.
